SOME GLIMPSES OF FEEDBACKS:

The program is for the whole family and a rich source of lessons for parents, especially children. May you be able to educate more.

We understood better the consequences of wrong decision making among the youth of these times.

We remember what Mr. Iray said: You have a choice; you have a right to choose your friend! ● _____

We learned how to avoid vices; not to enter into marriage too early, that we should first complete our studies so we can help our parents and siblings to make their own dreams come true.

Continue with the trainings to enable the youth to better understand the importance of parental guidance.

The youth participants became aware of all drugs and how they should be handled. We wish the team will be back with us.

There should be continuing education and information drive to assure the program's success.

It gave us knowledge about the importance of family – the first institution created by God – knowledge that we can apply in our daily lives. The family should be respected, supported and loved by us.

MORE CHALLENGES :

A wider information drive should have been done around the community.

There should be longer time to exhaust each subject. We longed for more.

We wish every subject will be tackled in one day!

NOTES WORTHY

A training/educational program may have drug prevention and treatment as specific goal, but at its core is the need for a loving, caring family where spouses and their children respect and support one another.

The home is the primary drug prevention center. IN A CARING HOME, DRUGS HAVE NO PLACE.

A caring family is a sharing family, whose members involve themselves in community work.

The mission of the program is to uphold families where members empower themselves and work together for the fruition of peace, security, unity and understanding in the home and the community.

The challenge of drug and substance abuse can only be truly effective and meaningful when taken in the context of its empowerment to face present-day social realities; AND ABOVE ALL, THROUGH PARTNERSHIP, COOPERATION AND FAITH IN THE ALMIGHTY.

LOOK TO YOUR HEART

Look to your heart when there are words to say
And never leave your love unspoken.
Day by day we go our thoughtless way
And only when we pray do we remember those we love.
Too late we find a word that's warm and kind
Is more than just a passing token.
Speak your love to those who seek your love
Look to your heart, your heart will know what to say
Look to your heart today.

MARAMING SALAMAT PO !
